Different neighborhoods have different needs and desires. I will listen to residents and do my best to fulfill their wishes. But we need to understand where we are before we decide where we're going. We must end the era of aggressive development. We must improve traffic conditions before we build more apartments and we must never put high rise buildings next to single family residential neighborhoods. New projects must provide adequate parking and have appropriate setbacks. We need financial clarity in order to spend taxpayer money wisely. Sustainability is more than reduced energy consumption. Sustainability requires limits, adherence to zoning and other codes, and fiscal caution.

I will always represent the interests of residents first, will work cooperatively with others, and will candidly explain my decisions. I will be a voice for every resident from every part of Glendale. I respectfully ask for your support and your vote.
